DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This two-story house exhibits the cubical form typical of vernacular Colonial Revival buildings. Its irregular fenestration suggests that its present form may incorporate an earlier structure; it is uniformly clad in asbestos shingles, with asphalt shingles covering its hipped roof. A half-hipped porch wraps around the north, east (front), and south sides of the building; this porch is framed in on the north, and has an outside staircase to the second story on the south. The house is three bays wide by two bays deep.
